Two of the music industry's most notable disruptors, Pat Corcoran and Tim Smith, managers of Chance the Rapper and Skrillex, respectively, have teamed up with celebrated sommelier and wine director of Lettuce Entertain You, Ryan Arnold, with the debut of NO FINE PRINT along with a secondary subsidiary, FINE PRINT, an extremely limited release. "We've built our reputation in the music industry by focusing on our unique approach to managing artists," says Tim Smith. "We love the wine world and wanted to find a way to merge the creative branding we've used in the music realm with wine," Corcoran adds.

2021/2022 No Fine Print Cabernet Sauvignon

'Lush, fruity and compulsively drinkable. An exceptional value.' -Vinepair

94% Cabernet Sauvignon, 6% Merlot. Crafted using grapes from select vineyards throughout Lodi. Cabernet from each sub-appellation adds a unique character to the final blend: Clements Hill adds tannin and structure; Alta Mesa adds a layer of jammy, ripe black fruit, and Sloughouse adds hints of spice and the bulk from Mokelumne River contributes nuances of herbs. Nearly all of the vineyards are California certified sustainable.

The 2022 Cabernet Sauvignon is our most classic vintage to date, lashing a bold fruit profile of cassis and blackberry with a long, smooth finish driven by a touch of spice and oak.
